Fujitsu

Fujitsu – Transforming business and society in the digital age

Since being founded in Japan in 1935, Fujitsu has continued to demonstrate technological prowess and persistent pursuit of innovation. As a world-leading digital transformation partner, their business structure is aligned with the modern digital world. There are around 99,000 employees worldwide (as at end of March 2026).

Fujitsu UK & I employs more than 5,000 people with a global purpose to make the world more sustainable by building trust in society through innovation. They have an extensive property portfolio including modern office space and data centres. The relationship between Assurity Consulting and Fujitsu started in the early nineties when the company required independent advice in the areas of Legionella and Asbestos management. The relationship has grown over the years into a strong and loyal working partnership, not only on a contractual management basis but also with the Facilities Managers at the Fujitsu regional sites who see Assurity Consulting as a valued resource for assistance and advice.

Strong relationships with their service partners are very important for Fujitsu. Having an independent viewpoint and knowing that they can call on their direct contact at Assurity Consulting to deliver trusted advice, is the type of service they have come to expect and appreciate.

Assurity Consulting covers the expansive property portfolio providing workplace compliance advice for water quality, Legionella management, asbestos management and noise risk assessments.

In addition, support is provided with indoor air quality. Assurity Consulting demonstrate extensive added value, over and above contractual requirements. They have attended meetings to support Fujitsu with their contractor management, assistance with legislative changes, and have assisted in identifying cost saving opportunities, whilst still making sure that full compliance is achieved.

Assurity Plus 2.0 health and safety management, the online reporting tool offered by Assurity Consulting, is seen as a critical element in ensuring compliance can be easily recorded, measured and centrally monitored across all the sites in UK&I.

"Having worked with Assurity Consulting for numerous years I know I can rely on their support and professional advice on all aspects of workplace compliance including areas that are not specifically detailed in our agreement. Their added value is second to none. Having an independent viewpoint is essential and their online compliance management tool enables central monitoring to be carried out with ease. They are now seen as a business-critical partner, particularly in relation to asbestos management. I would certainly have no hesitation in recommending them to other companies."
